

Welcome

Welcome to the Pathology & Immunology Office of Faculty Development. The goal of the Office of Faculty Development is to create a thriving and diverse Pathology & Immunology Department with professionally happy and healthy faculty who are productive, well recognized, and respected within the Washington University School of Medicine and within Academic Pathology & Immunology worldwide.

In the coming months, we will be working to implement faculty mentoring committees for all junior faculty, work with senior leadership to develop clearer guidelines for promotion, develop programming to help advance the professional development of our faculty, and create a social media plan for the department that will increase the awareness of our training programs, our research achievements and celebrate the accomplishments of the faculty and trainees in our department.

As we begin to develop content we will post it on our website <https://pathology.wustl.edu/office-of-faculty-development/>.

COVID-19 and this period of physical distancing is stressful. The Office of Faculty Development will try to help in any way we can.

Take care of each other and be well,

Ann Gronowski
Vice-Chair of Faculty Affairs and Development

Carey-Ann Burnham
Vice-Chair of Faculty Mentoring & Advancement

Janet Braun
Program Manager, Office of Faculty Development

Twitter

OFD is in the process of obtaining approval for our department to use Twitter. We are gathering content that would be appropriate to tweet. Examples of potential content include: recent papers from investigators, interesting cases, lectures being held. Please provide an image that would work with the tweet. Send to janetbraun@wustl.edu.

Stay Connected
